ENERGY

The use of green, renewable energy combined with innovative technologies such as water-cooled Bitcoin data centres can play a decisive role in the energy transition.

In our research centre (energy lab), we collect know-how & knowledge in the field of Bitcoin energy infrastructure and intelligent data centre software with the goal of making it ready for the market in collaboration with our renowned partners.

Game Changer:

- Water and immersion cooling leads to professional waste heat recovery
- Waste heat recovery and its use in conjunction with intelligent mining control

It is our mission to support and advise businesses in understanding the Bitcoin mining technology, as a highly flexible initial electricity consumer or a reliable electricity consumer of last resort, and to enable its decentralized integration into their processes in the way that makes most sense for them.

You would like to find out more about Bitcoin mining and understand the connections?

EDUCATION

We provide bespoke educational programmes both for private individuals and businesses designed to teach people and businesses in Europe about Bitcoin technology in all its forms.

- Professional, experienced educators
- Live webinars and workshops
- Long-term personal business advice

EVENTS

We plan and hold events and organize top-class speakers, with the goal of passing on our enthusiasm for the Bitcoin network to people and making this digital world tangible for them.

Participation in events, conferences, and trade shows outside the world of Bitcoin opens doors for all newcomers.
